Parental Support Coffee Meet

These are aimed towards those parents or carers who have a child with additional needs, such as ADHD, ASD or any other need or those who have children who are reluctant to attend school. This will be an opportunity to meet with other parents or carers who know the challenges that may arise surrounding your child's needs. So if you think you could share some advice, learn from others or simply know that others know exactly how you feel, please come along and help each other and make new friends!
